OFFICIAL PROGRAM
81ST ANNUAL MEETING
MEDICAL LIBRARY ASSOCIATION

BIOMEDICAL INFORMATION CONNECTION

MAY 29 – JUNE 4, 1981
QUEEN ELIZABETH HOTEL
MONTREAL, CANADA

On the cover:

Named for John Jacob Astor I who in 1848 left a $400,000 bequest for a reference library, the Astor Library on Lafayette Street, New York, opened its doors to the public in 1854, the date of this engraving.

In 1895, the Astor and Lenox Libraries were consolidated, laying the foundation for the great New York Public Library of our day. John Shaw Billings, after 30 years of developing the Library of the Office of the Surgeon General of the U.S. Army—now the National Library of Medicine—became the Director of the newly formed New York Public Library in 1896.

THANK YOU

On behalf of the MLA Board of Directors, the National Program Committee and the membership, we want to take this opportunity to thank the individuals and organizations who generously donated funds for the special amenities that add so much to our enjoyment of the MLA Annual Meeting.

AMERICAN JOURNAL OF PRIMATOLOGY

Volume 1, 1981, Four Issues

The rapid growth of interdisciplinary primatology within recent years has dictated the need for an efficient domestic journal devoted to publication of high quality manuscripts spanning the entire spectrum of primatology.

The journal publishes original research reports, scholarly reviews, brief reports, and book reviews on all topics relevant to the study of primates, including all aspects of their anatomy, behavior, development, ecology, evolution, genetics, nutrition, physiology, reproduction, systematics, conservation, husbandry, and use in biomedical research. Manuscripts demonstrating a strong comparative perspective are especially welcome.

The American Journal of Primatology is published quarterly. Should the volume of manuscripts demand it, the number of issues per year will be increased. Manuscripts are reviewed within one month of receipt and are typically published within four to eight months of final acceptance. The results of reviews, along with acceptance, suggestions for revision, or fully justified rejection, are rapidly communicated to authors. Instructions for contributors can be obtained from the editor or the publisher.

Manuscripts for consideration should be sent to: J. Erwin, Ph.D., Editor • American Journal of Primatology • P.O. Box 96 • Honeydew, CA 95545

Subscription information: United States, $70.00; Europe, Middle East, Africa (Airspeed Delivery), $80.00; other countries, $77.00. Payment must be in U.S. dollars or at current rate of exchange. For payments not made in U.S. funds and through a U.S. bank, please add $6.00 service charge.

Sample copies are available on request.

From Robert's Rules of Order Newly Revised (1970):

Before a member . . . can make a motion or speak in debate . . . he must obtain the floor; that is, he must be recognized by the chair as having the exclusive right to be heard at that time. (p. 23) [At MLA Business Meetings, this is done by first going to the nearest microphone.]

When the names of the members are not generally known, a person addressing the chair to claim the floor should state his name and any necessary identification . . . , as [John Doe, Oxbridge University Medical Library]. (p. 24)

Each member has the right to speak twice on the same question on the same day, but cannot make a second speech on the same question so long as any member who has not spoken on that question desires the floor. (p. 35)

A member who has spoken twice on a particular question on the same day has exhausted his right to debate that question for that day. (p. 35)

Without the permission of the assembly, no one can speak longer than . . . ten minutes. (p. 35)

Debate must be confined to the merits of the pending question. (p. 35)

Speakers must address their remarks to the chair, maintain a courteous tone, and – especially in reference to any divergence of opinion – should avoid injecting a personal note into debate. (p. 35)

Speakers should refer to officers only by title, and should avoid the mention of other members names as much as possible. (p. 35)

If at any time the presiding officer rises to . . . speak within his privilege, any member who is speaking should be seated (or should step back slightly [from the] microphone . . .) until the presiding officer has finished. (p. 333)

Parliamentary Know-How

To introduce business: move to main motion.

To approve action: move to accept, adopt or ratify.

To modify or change: move to amend or refer to a committee.

To defer action: move to postpone to a definite time, refer to a committee or lay on table.

To limit discussion: move to limit debate.

To stop discussion: move the previous question.

To determine correctness of an announced voice vote: move for division of the assembly.

To suppress a question: object to consideration, move to postpone indefinitely, or lay on table.

To object to decision of the chair: move an appeal from the decision.

To make a request: call for point of information, rise to parliamentary inquiry, or raise question of privileges.

To consider a second time: move to take from the table, reconsider or rescind.
To repeal action: move to rescind.

Motions grouped according to the purpose to be accomplished. Based on Robert's Rules of Order, Newly Revised (1970 Edition) (pp. 48-68).

Most Used Motions

Reference: Robert's Rules of Order, Newly Revised (1970 Edition)

Main Motion

Proposal for action or for expression of certain views. Only one main motion may be on the floor at a time. (p. 52)

Subsidiary Motions

Motions to modify or delay action on the main motion. In order when the main motion is being discussed: (pp. 52-56)

To Amend: (Or to modify) – five methods to amend: 1) to strike; 2) to insert; 3) to strike and insert; 4) to add at end of sentence; 5) to substitute. (pp. 108-135). Substitution generally is used only for an entire paragraph or section; strike and insert is quicker, easier, and accomplishes the same purpose. (pp. 112-113)

Refer to Committee – For information, for appropriate recommendations and/or carry out recommendations. (p. 140)

Postpone to a Certain Time – Defer further consideration of the main question until a definitely stated time. (p. 150)

Previous Question – to close debate on current question. Affirmative vote (two-thirds without discussion) closes debate and orders immediate vote on pending question. The call “Question” may be ignored by the chair. (p. 166)

Lay on Table – Set aside temporarily. Majority vote and no discussion. Motion may not be modified. If definite time is desired, postpone should be employed. (p. 177)

Incidental Motions

These arise from pending question and must be decided before the question. (p. 58)

Request for Information (p. 245)

Point of Order (p. 212)

Appeal (p. 218)

Division of Assembly (p. 237)

No recognition required. Division is used by the chair or assembly when the outcome of a vote is uncertain. A standing vote need not be counted unless the outcome is still uncertain or a record of the vote is required. (pp. 42-43)

Reconsider

Must be made by one who voted on the prevailing side: In order only on the same day or the next succeeding day. If reconsideration carries, the motion to which it applies is again before the assembly. (pp. 265-281)

Rescind (Or Cancel)

May be called for by anyone when it is too late for reconsideration, if action is not under way. Two-thirds vote without notice required, majority if notice to rescind has been given. (pp. 256-260)

Adjourn

May be accomplished by general consent or by motion. (pp. 199-206)

Examine PRE-MED and increase your awareness of the most current medical information.

Until BRS introduced PRE-MED, our new online database with weekly coverage of clinical medicine, there were two popular ways to keep up-to-date in the fast changing world of medicine. Either read the most recent issues of medical journals or wait several months and search MEDLINE. But BRS has changed all that. With PRE-MED you can search both the most current journals and MEDLINE with the same index terms and on the same BRS system.

It's unique; it's timely; and it's another example of the BRS difference.
